THE STATIONS OF THE CROSS IN STAINED GLASS

A beloved devotional, most often observed during lent, the Stations of the Cross are displayed in Catholic churches all over the world. These artistic representations evoke faithful supplication and remind us of the pangs Christ suffered for the redemption of mankind. These individual events from the Passion of Christ can be displayed in a number of ways, and are commonly shown as sculptures or paintings. At Stained Glass Inc. we offer the Stations of the Cross in beautiful, high quality, virtually unbreakable stained glass.

Stained glass windows are a traditional Christian art form that dates back as far as the Middle Ages. Ancient cathedrals featured stained glass artwork that illustrated Biblical scenes and taught Christian lessons to the predominantly illiterate congregations. Stations of the Cross stained glass is the perfect way to display the colorful beauty of stained glass in your Catholic, Episcopal or Orthodox church. You get the benefits of classic church stained glass while displaying the beauty of these faithful images. Stained glass adds stunning color and allows light to flow through your worship space in a way that no other form of art can. Your congregation will be inspired by these images of Christ's final moments, as they are bathed in the warmth of colorful light.
